MILAM COTTON CROP IS WORTH MORE THAN FIVE MILLIONS

BUSINESS REVIVES IN RISE OF COTTON PRICE

MERCHANTS GO AWAY TO MARKET WHILE FARMERS HARVEST MONEY CROP

The spectacular rise of the cotton market following the government forecast of 13,492,00 bale crop has brought optimism to Milam county farmers and Cameron business men.

Based on a production of 50,000 bales Milam county's cotton crop at the present price will bring the farmers more than five million dollars. This total added to the value of other crops and agriculture is seen in a sensational comeback that gives fine prospects for prosperity an dindependence again on the farms.

Everywhere there is encouragement. Merchants are hurrying away to the markets in preparation for the fall trade to lay in stocks and to meet the demands of the buying public.

Not in recent years have the farmers harvested so great a feed and grain crop. Unlike the disaster of 1925 the farmers will not have to buy feed. In many instances production has been heavy enough to provide for feed and grain for two years.

The reaction to the agitation for reduction of the cotton acreage has been most satisfactory and many fields in Milam county have not been cultivated to maximum acreage this year and this average seems to have been maintained throughout the state.

The crops have been made on the lowest ratio of invested money in recent years and this is in favor of the farmer for his obligations will be lighter than usual. The carry over in indebtedness from 1926 is considerable but with the prevailing price of 20c and above the crop this year will give the farmers ample resources to liquidate and have a nice surplus to begin the new year with or to buy needed supplies.

PRICES SOAR BIG ON GOVERNMENT REPORT

FORECAST OF SHORT COTTON CROP GIVES ENCOURAGEMENT

Washington, Aug. 8.—The first forecast of this year's cotton crop was placed at 13,492,000 equivalent 500-pound bales Monday by the Department of Agriculture, which declared that outstanding factor in the situation this year was the boll weevil menace.

"The infestation is reported by correspondents to be approximately three times as heavy as it was a year ago," the crop reporting board said, "and is the greatest it has been since 1922 for the same time of the season." The forecast was 4,500,000 bales under that of last year.

The August 1 condition of the crop was 69.5 per cent, which compares with 69.8 per cent a year ago, 65.6 in 1925 and 67.4 per cent in 1924, indicated an approximate yield of 156.8 pounds per acre, compared with 181.9 pounds in 1926 and 155.7 pounds, the average for the last five years.

The total indicated production is based on the assumption that the area abandoned this season will be equal to the average of the last 10 years, leaving from the 42,683,000 acres in cultivation July 1, an area of 41,139,000 acres for harvest this year. The final outturn of the crop, the department stated, will depend upon whether the various influences affecting the crop during the remainder of the season are more or less favorable than usual. Last year's crop was 17,977,374 bales, that of 1924 was 16,103,679 and in 1923 it was 13,627,936 bales.

The condition of the crop on August 1 by states was:

Virginia 75, North Carolina 78, S. Carolina 66, Georgia 65, Florida 71, Missouri 61, Tennessee 69, Alabama 70, Mississippi 68, Louisiana 64, Texas 69, Oklahoma 75, Arkansas 68, New Mexico 83, Arizona 85, California 90 and all other states 67.

Indicated production for Lower California is 62,000 bales.

O. J. COLE MISSIONARY FOR MILAM COUNTY

FORMER BISHOP PASTOR TAKES OVER WORK FOR COUNTY BAPTISTS

O. J. Cole, former pastor of the Baptist church in Bishop is now engaged as Missionary for the Baptist of Milam County. He preached in the first church in Cameron Sunday morning and the people here are favorably impressed with him. He has begun his work as missionary and hopes to revive the work in this county.

The following interesting acticle is taken from a recent issue of the Bishop News:

Rev. O. J. Cole, who has been pastor of the First Baptist church here for the past four years, will leave with his family next week for Milam county where he has accepted the place in that district as Associational Missionary, and will be engaged in evangelistic work.

During Rev. Cole's pastorate here the church has reached its largest membership and has made its largest contributions to denominational missions, heading all the Baptist churches in South Texas. While here Pastor Cole held a meeting at Driscoll, organized a church and built a $5,000 church building. He served as supply pastor there in connection with his pastorate here until they were able to secure a regular pastor.

The church here will greatly regret to lose Miss Mary, the pastor's daughter, who has been their much loved pianist during the past two years, and is considered one of the best musicians in this section.—Bishop News.

Cameron Herald.
Cameron, Texas.
Dear Editor:-

I will appreciate your kindness very much if you will send me a copy of The Herald, I hold a warm feeling in my heart for the good people around Cameron as I was born about 2 miles of Cameron a little better than fifty years ago. My father moved over to East Texas at Jacksonville many years ago from Cameron. We left there the fall of 1886 and I have been contemplating visiting back there but have never made up my mind or rather never taken time to come back. I would like to have space in The Herald to say a few things about those many past years and thought several times that I would like to hear from some of the old timers there. I don't suppose that I would know many of the people there now. Well I will close hoping to receive a copy of your good paper,

Yours respectfully,
T. A. HUNT.

On Tuesday Buckholts lost another game to the Lott team and has been eliminated in the cup race sponsored by the Waco News-Tribune.

The game here Sunday was witnessed by one of the largest crowds ever attending a ball game in Cameron. A sensational ninth inning rally neeted two rus for the Bulldogs but this was not sufficient to overcome the lead gained by Lott in the eighth frame. Buckholts led by a score of 2 to 1 until the seventh when it was tied.

Tadlock, the Bedias southpaw, pitching for Buckholts, struck out ten men and lost the game due to errors on the parts of his team mates, a total of 8 being made by them.

400 BALES OF COTTON GINNED IN CAMERON

DRY WEATHER BRINGS FLOOD OF MONEY CROP TO LOCAL COTTON MARKET

The hum of gin saws and the rumble of cotton wagons are now the most talked of incidents of the day in Cameron with the opening of the 1927 ginning season.

Up to noon Thursday more than 400 bales of 1927 cotton had been received at the compress in Cameron indicating a rapid marketing of the staple.

Cameron, the best cotton market in Central Texas, is offering a profitable price for cotton and farmers are hurrying the staple to the gins and receiving ready money.

Indications are this will be a big week for ginning. The general movement of the crop will be under way in two weeks.

Lott Lions Defeat Buckholts Bulldogs

Lott, Aug. 10.—The Buckholts Bulldogs, finalists in the News Tribune cup race of 1926, lost in the semi-finals this year to the Lott Lions. The Lott team swept into the finals Tuesday afternoon by defeating the Bulldogs by a score of 2 to 1 on the Rosebud diamond in a sensational pitching duel between Lefty Beach and Hodge. The Lott team composed largely of Westphalia stars of last year, were out for revenge in this series and got it in a most surprising manner, for Buckholts had been favored to go to the final bracket. Lott has upset the dope in both of its playoff series, first sliminating Company K, Waco's representative, which was one of the outstanding favorites.

Beach was in trouble in two innings but by good control struck out two men each time to retire th eside. The Bulldogs scored their only run in the fourth when Lowrie smashed out a screaming home run over the right-field fence. The Lions made their first run in the first inning. G. Kleypas grounded out, Beach being hit by a pitched ball. Franklin walked, Jansing followed with a two-base hit, scoring Beach. Storey grounded out. The second and last run came in the third when G. Kleypas doubled, and scored on Franklin's two-base blow to right center.

SCIENCE NOTES

The discovery of the process makes it possible to utilize practically every fiber of the tree, the bark alone being considered a waste product until the silk-producing method was developed.

Silk and paper handkerchiefs were common in China long before the Christian era and, from this beginning the article has had an interesting history. It first appeared among Anglo Saxons as a cloth worn at the belt to remove prespiration. Churchmen were the first to use handkerchiefs in Europe and, for a time only priests were allowed to carry them. In the sixteenth century, it was not uncommon to mention the handkerchief in wills.

Reports of successful treatments of skin diseaeses with the "grenz ray," a form of radiation shorter in length than the ultra-violet light and longer than X-rays, were made before the American medical association recently. Since the new ray is not so penetrating as the X-rays, it is believed that it may be used with little injury to the skin.

Reducing the cost of a building material by increasing the quantity of cement used in its manufacture sounds paradoxical, but that is what a Los Angeles producer has done with special hollow building block. Because of the greater strength of the unit, there is less loss from breakage during handling, and a load can be dumped from the trucks without damage, saving time and labor expense involved in unloading by the hand method.

Friendly Class Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dickens was a scene of much merriment last Thursday evening when the Friendly Class from the Christian church met for a social.

The living room and dining room were beautifully decorated in queen's crown roses and lilies placed in baskets and vases and hanging baskets. Mis Grace Eplin the teacher of the class directed the games and assisted Mrs. Dickens in serving cream and cake which further carried out the color scheme of pink and white. Little scrolls were on each plate and when untied revealed the fortune of each. There were 22 guests and class members present.

Mrs. Kemp Is Hostess

Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp was hostess to a few friends and neighbors Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. G. C. White a former resident of Cameron. Mrs. Kemp in her charming sweet way greeted her guests and invited them in the library where merry conversation and greeting the old friend, Mrs. White was much enjoyed. The guests were served first from a beautifully decorated tray, in the center of each a potted begonia. The lunch covers and napkins showing bright butter flies and pink roses. The luncheon consisted of salad course with grape ice. After the trays were removed several games of 42 were enjoyed. Mrs. Kemp was assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. N. P. McCall. On departing the honoree was presented with a beautiful potted fuchia in full bloom.

Rev. F. M. Ham Hurt When Hit By An Auto

Oklahoma City Okla., Aug. 4.—The condition of Rev. M. F. Ham, pastor of the First Baptist church and widely known evangelist, who was struck by an automobile here late yesterday was only slightly improved today. He rested well during the night and continued to show signs of regaining consciousness, his physician announced.

J. P. Cottle of Maud, Okla. driver of the car that struck the minister, was released from custody of city officers after a statement by an eyewitness to the accident.

Before the time of the trousers pocket, man carried his valuables in a little bag of cloth tied about his waist. Often, however, a thief would slip up behind, slit the string with a knife and make off with treasure. A thoughtful Frenchman, 300 years ago, sewed the bag in the lining of his garments, thereby instituting the first trousers pocket.

AMENDMENTS DEFEAT BIG LOSS STATES MOODY

GOVERNOR AND JIM IN COUNTER STATEMENTS OVER ELECTION RESULT

Austin, Aug. 2.—Governor Dan Moody sounded a reproachful requiem late Tuesday over the four constitutional amendments defeated at Monday's election.

"The result could be seen some days ago," he said. "Public lethargy contributed largely toward the defeat of the amendments.

"The organized opposition of corporate interests was easily sufficient to defeat the tax amendment in the absence of any campaign of education in its behalf and the opposition to it was damaging to the judicial amendment. These were the two important amendments, and both were for the benefit of the masss of the people.

Silent on Session

"The road to justice is still long, tedious and expensive. Congested dockets make the administration of justice very low and in many instances the cost of a lawsuit is beyond the reach of the average man. The judicial amendment was intended to improve our judicial system and contribute toward bringing justice more nearly within the reach of rich and poor alike. It was a measure for public economy in a necessary function of government, the administration of law.

"The tax amendment was intended to lighten the burdens that our unequal taxation imposes upon the farmer and home owner. A wasteful and unequal system of taxation which penalizes agriculture and home ownership is an obstacle to the development of the country. The imperfections that work this injustice remain the problem of the people of Texas."

Justice Expensive

The governor said nothing as to when another special session of the legislature will be called, if any. September was regarded as the tentative date at the end of the last special session.

Monday night the governor expressed surprise at the heavy vote against the judiciary amendment.

Chief Justice C. M. Cureton of the supreme court and George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture, were out of town.

Former Attorney General W. A. Keeling (chairman of the state organization supporting the amendments, said, "It is regrettable, but the returns would seem to show a slight opposition" he smiled.

Pollard Cites Past

Attorney General Claude Pollard declared that the fate of 95 proposed amendments submitted to the people since the state constitution of 1876 was adopted, shows "that the people are inherently opposed to amending the organic law. Only 25 amendments have been adopted, he pointed out.

"It is only by a vigorous educational campaign that an amendment can be carried," he added.

Former governor James E. Ferguson expressed elation and pleasure over defeat of the four constitutional amendments proposed in Monday's election.

"Four distinct and radical changes in our constitution were proposed without rhyme or reason," he said. "The people rose up in their mighty majesty and said, "They shall not pass."

Bouquet for Houston

Ferguson said he regarded the returns from Houston as a 'compliment to the people of that city," and drew conclusions expressed in characteristic Ferguson style that the people were "evidently determined to be no longer dictated to."

"While this battle is won, yet I want to urge the people," he added, "to be forever on guard. 'Eternal vigilence is the price of liberty' is a statement far more important now than when it was uttered a hundred years ago. High taxes are becoming a menace to the stability of the republic."

MAINTAIN AMERICAN IDEALS

That there is growing sentiment in this nation against unnecessarily high taxes, the constant passage of innumerable laws and ordinances, the establishment of new boards, bureaus and commissions and extension of government control over the individual and private business, is evidenced by comment appearing all over the country.

At recent elections the people cast a decided 'No' vote against measures while pile up expense or restrict individual activity. Editorial comment on the situation is widespread. It appears in country daily and weekly newspapers, in metropolitan dailies and in magazines of national circulation. Public officials openly express opinions on the subject which would have been deemed political suicide a few years ago. The underlying thought seems to be that there has been a tendency to drift away from our original simple form of government which gave us the spiritual and individual freedom that made possible our enormous material prosperity. Commenting on the situation, Collier's Magazine says editorially:

"Not many people believed in the creed written by Thomas Jefferson 151 years ago.

"His principles became the ferment that for good or evil made us what we are.

"The rules of conduct laid down by the ideal istic Virginian form a doctrine which cannot be forgotten or ignored. They are simple and but two in number:

"1, All men are created equal and are endowed with inalienable rights to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

"2, Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

"Brief and plain, but all the libraries of political philosophy could have said nothing more moving. Washington's military talents made it possible to test the truth of Jefferson's principles. The importance of the initiative you show cannot be underestimated, but bigger than any man is the American which liberates every child to go as far as his native talents will carry him.

"A century and a half have demonstrated the worth of freedom to us and to our country."

INTELLIGENT ADVERTISING BUILDS BUSINESS

The world marvels at the growth of the American telephone system. Nothing has done more to put telephones in practically every American home, than advertising.

Government owned telephone systems in Europe see no need for adevertising. The taxpayer has to cover deficits, and there is no incentive for officials to maintain a growing telephone business and pay dividends to hundreds of thousands of stockholders.

To show why the American system grows, it is only necessary to read some of the advertising of local telephone companies. A good illustration is advertising appearing in Maryland newspapers during a recent month.

One advertisement appealed to the young person at school to ring up the folks at home and keep up the personal contact. Another, pointed out the cheer that is brought to parents when their young people who have gone out in different walks of life, make a little "phone visit" instead of merely trusting to an occasional letter. Yet another, suggested that a young person away from home, when confronted by problems, gets comfort and help by ringing up the home for advice.

All the advertising had the human touch and appealed to every member of every family. The American telephone system grows and gives the best and the cheapest service in the world, largely as the result of continuous and intelligent advertising.

THE CREED OF A FOOL

I am a fool. I believe that fire is a regrettable accident which occurs in the other man's house. I believe that my own house is free from danger, although I take no precaution of any kind. If I stopped to think, I would realize that my house is even as other houses are, but it is unnecessary for me to think about such matters. The other man should think deeply.

I believe that fires are caused by carelessness, the carelessness of the other man. I believe that I am a privileged character. I may throw matches about, cast away half-lighted cigarette stubs without looking to see where hey fall. I believe that I can do such things with impunity. So far I have not been arrested for arson.

I believe that the other man is negligent. He is culpable and deserves to suffer losses caused by his ow nstupidity. A special providence looks after my home and place of business.

I believe all this, without any guaranty of immunity from the attack of fire. I have no surety that fate has not nominated me for membership in "the club of other men." But, as I have said, I am a fool.

RISE OF THE PRESS

The most remarkable feature of American journalism is the growth, development and influence of the country weekly newspaper and small town daily. Fifteen to twenty-five years ago practically all of these representatives of the smaller cities and towns consisted of poorly printed sheets of local items and boiler plate. Today look at them. The great majority are clearly printed; they carry a certain amount of the more important national and international news along with the strictly local columns.

Above all, this last cannot be exaggerated. From mere reporters of town happenings, they have rise nto an important, possibly the most important place as leaders of thought and comment on local, state and national problems. Their opinions are usually well founded and intelligent. They sway politics, industrial and business progress and national affairs in a large way.

It would be well for the average citizen to better appreciate the character and influence of the rural press. It may give him another slant on the reason for America's unprecedented progress.

PECANS THAT SELL FOR 25 CENTS EACH DISPLAYED AT LAMPASAS; STORY OF THRIVING INDUSTRY

Lampasas, Tex., Aug. 4.—An $8.75 quart jar of pecans is a very interesting exhibit in the agricultural products building at the Seventh Annual Lampasas fair which opened Wednesday and closed Friday.

This particular jar is not distinguished from numerous others in the pecan exhibit and attracts no particular attention except among a few pecan enthusiasts but it contains 35 of the new Moss variety of nuts sold by D. F. Moore of the Bend community last season at the neat price of 25 cents each.

They were not sold for planting purposes. As a matter of fact Mr. Moore returned scores of orders from people who wanted them for planting because he maintains that pecans cannot be depended upon to reproduce themselves with any degree of faithfulness when planted. They were not sold for eating purposes, either but for souvenirs.

The Moss pecan came about in this way. W. J. Millican and D. F. and W. T. Moore, al lpecan enthusiasts of the Bend community staged a world wide search for the best native pecans. They offered prizes of $100 for the largest and best individual pecans. The winning nuts came from a tree on the Carl Moss ranch near Llano. 31 nuts weighed a pound. It is pecans from buds taken from this tree that Mr. Moore sold for 25 cents each and a few of which he saved for his pecan exhibit. It is rumored that Mr. Moore is now trying to work out a plan of crossing this pecan with the cocoanut to increase the size.

D. F. Moore has 135 acres set out in improved varieties of pecans which are from one to seven years old. He also has considerable native pecan timber. In his exhibit he has some of the Millican variety, claimed to be the softest shelled type in the state. At A. & M. college these pacans tested 100 per cent from the standpoint of cracking.

The Hollis variety is also represented in his exhibit. This variety originated from the famous "Old Jumbo" tree of the Bend community. Its fruit said to be the first to ever bring the fancy price of $1.00 per pound, won first prize at the World's fair at St. Louis. It is about 200 years old. Several other fine varieties are shown including the "Wright." Mr. Moore and Mr. Mullican ordered 10,000 buds of this variety a few years ago and prize them very highly.

W. J. Millican markets about 40,000 pounds of pecans annually. The crop is short this year, nowever, and his production will probably fall below 25,000 pounds, he says. He has 2,000 native bearing trees. Most of them are 43 years old and bear as much as 600 pounds each in a season. He also has some trees which are 100 years old, some of which bear as high as 800 pounds.

Recently Mr. Millican cut a limb from one of his choice trees and sold the pecans from it for more than $100. The limb overhung the river and threatened to cause the tree to lean and cave the bank. He has been offred $500 for several of his trees. He devotes his whole time to pecans. He has 100 acres of land in cultivation but rents it to others. Crops are made between the bearing pecan trees. He is vice president of the state association of pecan growers which held its annual convention at Gonzales a few weeks ago. San Saba won the 1928 meeting.

Miss Veo Millican, who is assisting with the exhibits at the fair, is said to be the only woman pecan expert in the tate. She is the daughter of W. J. Millican and very enthusiastic about the budding and grafting of pecans.

Bend pecan growers have their own pecan association and selling pool. Last season they shipped fifteen carloads of pecans to big shelling companies, receiving 12 cents per pound. The crop yielded approximately $55,000. The finer varieties of nuts are not included in the pool but are sold at from 30 cents to $1.00 per poand.

In Memorium

"There is no death. The stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore
Where bright in heaven's glory crown
They shine forever more."

Why then should we call it death,
That quiet sleep, that calm repose
Which comes to mark the close of earthly life?

Is it not rather nature's call for rest.
Wisely designed by Him who knoweth well the hour
Wherein the silver cord has loosened grown,
The golden bowl ashattered lies
And the frail body would seek a place
On the cool breast of mother earth,
And the waiting spirit all a plume for flight
To Him who gave it birth.

We would not once embed our golden grain
Or precious bulbs in dust, if they were dead;
May, as we cover them from sight
Leaving them unto the care of twilight dews.
Morning rays, gentle showers and sentine stars,
Hope tells us they will come forth again
Clad in new array
More beautiful that they have slept.

If this be true of fair yet soulless flowers,
Blooming but to gladden earthly bowers,
How glorious will the resurrection be
Of those endowed with immortality
Who on awakening will rise to live always
Throughout eternity's unending day.

The passing of Mrs. Ellen Burnett on Wednesday evening August 3 at eight o'clock brought sorrow to the hearts of a very wide circle of friends and relatives who were shocked by sudden departure. She had been ill for quite a while, but seemed to be improving and had gone to make a visit with a daughter. Here she suddenly grew worse and was carried to the Cameron hospital where every effort was made to save her life, but as the twilight shadows were gathering God called and she answered her final summons, "To come on high."

Although Mrs. Burnett had spent but a small part of her life in our midst, her friends here were legion. Blest is the person who has the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts. It evolves many things, but above all the power of giving out of ones self and appreciating what is noble and loving in another.

All down through the pages of history we read the biography of men and women who have won some great distinction by heroic sacrifice and noble deeds. The subject of this sketch is not one who has startled the world by any marvelous achievement yet one of whom a whole volume might be written, if we could but fathom the depths of the channels of mother love and estimate the true value of the influence of those mothers who have spent their entire lives in the quiet sactuary of the home.

She was born in North Carolina, there married the late S. T .Burnett. To this unit was born eight children all of whom survive. Besides these she is survived by one brother. two sisters and thirty-one grand children.

After a short service held by her pastor Bro. V. F. Lemons, Mrs. Burnett was very tenderly laid to rest in Little River cemetery Thursday afternoon at five o'clock where friends placed a myriad of beautiful flowers over her grave regreting that one so good and sweet should pass away, but it is "God who has bereft us, He can our sorrows heal."

Miss Denson Honored

Mrs. J. W. Coleman and daughters, Miss Sallie and Mrs. Jas. L Coleman were joint hostesses Wednesday morning for a pretty bridge party honoring Miss Louise Denson, a bride of the month and Mrs Earl Evers of Cuero, at the home of the former. The hall, living room and dining room were artistically decorated in flowers of rainbow colors. The table covers and score cards and tally pads all featured the pastel shades of pink, green, yellow, blue and lavender. A most appetizing luncheon with ices was served from bamboo trays around on modern linen and centered with baskets of pink roses. At the conclusion of the games high went to Miss Louise Adams and low to Miss Lillie Kate Beckerman who in turn presented these gifts to Miss Denson. The hostess presented Mrs. Evers with a beautiful luncheon set and Miss Denson with an end table. Out of town guests were Mrs. McIntyre of San Antonio and Mrs. Fred Smith of Branchville.

Gun Club

The Cameron Gun Club held their regular shoot at the Country Club grounds Wednesday evening. Mr. Ashby of Rockdale making high average of ninety-two per cent. F. E. Jackson ninety per cent, F. A. Denison of Waco eighty-nine per cent, O. M. Smith eighty-four percent and Con Moody seventy-six per cent.

Visitors present were F. A. Denison of Waco Gun Club, Dr. Coulter and Mr. Ashby of Rockdale Gun Club. Dr. Zellner, W. T. Whatley, Earl Adrian and Lee Clore.

NEW ORLEANS BLACK ACES TO PLAY AT WAYSIDE FRIDAY

The New Orleans Black Aces are to furnish the music for the regular Friday night dance at Wayside and J. D. Lewis will play on Saturday night. The dance last Friday night was well attended but on account of the orchestra breaking their car while en route to Cameron the Saturday night dance had to be called down.

The dance lovers of this section are looking forward to the dance next Friday night when Steve Gardner and His Hokum Kings will play for the dance. This is the most popular orchestra that has ever played in Cameron.

Frigidaire

Product of General Motors

There are eleven different Frigidaire cabinet models. Six of these are metal cabinets and five are the new metal-porcelain cabinets. All models have the structural advantages of steel—strength, durability and cleanliness and set high standards of cabinet construction. Solid corkboard has been used as insulation on all Frigidaire models.

The metal cabinets are finished in white Duco and trimmed with bright metal. Five of them are lined with white, seamless, porcelain enameled steel.

The new metal-porcelain cabinets are constructed of white porcelain enameled steel. The front is highly polished metal which is also used for the exterior trim of the cabinets. The interior of the food compartments is the same pure white, porclain-enameled steel.

R. B. Ramsour of Snyder Killed In Auto Wreck

Breckenridge, Tex., Aug. 6.—R. B. Ramsour, 55, of Snyder was fatally injured and his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Harris of Fort Worth is in a local hospital as the result of an automobile accident 16 miles west of here today.

Mrs. Ramsour and the little daughter of Mrs. Harris, who were in the machine, were slightly injured. Witnesses said that Ramsour appeared to lose control of the machine which turned over several times without leaving the highway.

Mrs. Joe B. Kreusch here received word yesterday of the death of her brother in law, R. B. Ramsour of Snyder at Albany, near Breckenridge, in an automobile accident and of the injury of Mrs. Ramsour, sister of Mrs. Kreusch.

The three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ramsour, who are students at San Marcos this summer, passed thru here last night an dleft on an early morning Santa Fe, accompanied by Mrs. Kreusch, for their home at Snyder.—Temple Telegram.

Mrs. Ramsour is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Woolley of Cameron and a sister of Miss Leila Woolley, County Tax Assessor of Milam County. Her three daughters have spent much of their time in Cameron in their grandfather's home. Miss Maurine graduated from the Yoe High school. Miss Leila was unable to attend the funeral on account of the feeble health of her parents. Mr. Ramsour's remains were shipped to Snyder where he was laid to rest Wednesday morning. Mrs. Joe Kreusch of Temple another sister of Mrs. Ramsour left for Snyder Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Weslie Buller from Brookshire spent 3 days last week with their sister, Mrs. Louis Gohmert.

Bridge Club

Miss Louise Denson is being named the honoree almost daily since her wedding announcement last week. It was Mrs. Dan Tyson who complimented her at the Tuesday Bridge club on Tuesday afternoon on the large porch of her home on Travis Avenue, where there were four tables assembled for this afternoon courtesy. The porch was beautifully decorated in the chosen color using zennias and colonial phlox. The table covers and score cards carried out the color scheme as did the salad course. At the conclusion of the games the club members presented Miss Louise, who is a popular member, with a beautifully decorated cook book each one contributing a favorite receipe. Mrs. Tyson's gift to the honoree was a gift shop vase. Out of town guests were Mrs. J. B. Rector of Shreveport, La., Mrs. Paul D. Brown of Karnes City and Mrs. Vernon McIntyre of San Antonio.

Mrs. Evers Honored

Wednesday afternoon Mesdames J. W. Coleman and Jas. L. Coleman and Miss Sallie were hostesses to their friends at a 42 party naming Mrs. Evers of Cuero, a daughter, as honor guest. The same decorations were used and the same luncheon was served as in the morning for Miss Louise Denson. In the cuts at the tables the following ladies received perfume boxes: Mesdames Conn Miller, Roy Jeter, Vernon Roberts, Lena Baskin, Hayden Lawrence, Wilson Gunn and Claude Triggs. The honoree was presented with a colonial lady powder box.

BEWARE of the High Pressure Solicitor

House-To-House canvassing has been developed to a marked degree of high pressure salesmanship. The same principles that the blu-sky stock salesman uses are employed. The first rule in the canvasser's book is, 'not to let the prospect ask any questions, but do all the talking yourself.'

The next time one of these birds begins his or her carefully rehearsed spiels interrupt with a few questions.

When he talks about eliminating middlemen's profits, ask him what he is if not a middleman. Ask him, too, about the "crew manager," "district sales manager" and "zone supervisors" under whom he works, and all of whom must get "their bit."

Ask him what you are going to do if the merchandise proves unsatisfactory. Who is going to make good, he or his firm? If the firm, what assurance have you that they are not going to repudiate the claims on the very popular grounds that "the agent had no authority to make the claims specified and that we cannot be expected to be held liable."

But best of all, ask the agent or canvasser if you can take the goods offered and compare them with the same priced merchandise offered by your local merchant.

That will spike his guns!

In the interest of self-protection as well as the common good of the community trade with your home merchants.

TIGHT FEELING

Stomach Troubles Relieved by the Aid of Black-Draught.

Telling how he obtained relief from very disagreeable symptoms of stomach trouble, Mr. Charles T. Wintz, of R. F. D. 4, Huntington, W. Va., made the following statement:

"I began taking Black-Draught about fifteen years ago. I would have gas on my stomach that just pressed and seemed to shorten my breath, and I would have all kinds of feeling. My head would ache and I was in a very bad fix.

"I had tried remedies that didn't seem to do me any good. I saw Black-Draught advertised and sent for it.

"After taking a few doses, I knew it was helping me. It seemed to break up the gas, and the tight, bloated feeling disappeared, and I was like a new man. I would not be without Black-Draught. I can eat anything I want to. If I get dizziness in the head, Black-Draught relieves it."

THE FARMER'S BEST WAY OUT

Dean Russell of Wisconsin College of Agriculture says: "Two things have hit the farmer hard but the same things have hit business. They are increase in cost of production and decline in prices which latter has been more drastic in farm products than manufactured products. The farmer's political friends say salvation can be found through legislation. Our legislative doctors propose price control. The difficulty with this is price control always means price elevation which always produces expansion in production and if this occurs without expansion in consumption you have inevitable decline in prices. The remedy works to produce the very opposite result from that intended.

"Another legislative panacea would make it easier to borrow, as if running into debt was the solution of the difficulty. There are farmers who wish it had not been quite so easy to borrow because the inevitable day comes when they have to pay principal and interest. The third legislative remedy would make easier the pathway for cooperative endeavor. All you have to do is to wave the magic wand 'Cooperation' and all the farmer's difficulties will immediately disappear. I wonder if there is any government that can make people cooperate. The success of cooperative effort will lie in organization from the bottom up rather than from the top down and it will take a decade or two for the results to be felt.

"The farmers have at hand a remedy that can be utilized immediately with the definite knowledge that it will secure far better results. If they will take a leaf out of present day business methods they will have relief in agriculture they will not have to wait for. Business has suffered the same as the farmer, yet business came through in a way that is far ahead of the farmer. This has been brought about through industrial efficiency, through improvement of methods. They have increased labor output per unit to the degree the costs of production have actually been reduced by better methods of carrying on work. Industrial enterprises on a large scale are spending millions on research. In ten years automobile output per worker has increased 172 per cent, tires 211 per cent, oil 83 per cent, cement 61 per cent.

"Compare that with others. The packers have increased only 27 per cent, sugar refining 28 per cent, boots and shoes only 6 per cent. There has been an increase in agriculture since 1913 of 20 per cent. It is doubtful that business has any such opportunity as exists in agriculture to reduce cost of production through improved methods. Take corn,—Iowa shows a variation in cost of production from fifteen cents to seventy-five cents a bushel. In Illinois the cost of producing corn on 80 acre fields was reduced from fifty-two cents to twenty cents a bushel. The manfacturer who had it within his power to reduce production costs from fifty-two to thirty cents per unit would be tickled to death with the opportunity of meeting competition under these conditions.

"The way out for the farmer is (1) to become a business man, (2) to adopt business methods, to adapt himself to the same kind of conditions and be as efficiently mobile as is our manufacturer or our business man in the ordinary channels of his trade, (3) to rely less upon political promises and more upon individual initiative, (4) to work toward cooperative endeavor, but in the meantime not to wait for cooperative endeavor to solve all of these problems because individually he can do something at the present time."

Attends Convention

Within the next month, from thousands of windows, ice cards will come down forever, as a direct result of a substantial price reduction announced by Frigidaire Corporation, it was declared yesterday by H. C. Keith, local dealer, upon his return from a district conference at Houston, Texas, where new prices were discussed.

"A sharp cut was made on the lowest priced unit in the entire line, the new model placed on the market several months ago," said Mr. Keith. "This is in keeping with the organization's program of bringing prices to a point where there will be an electric refrigerator suited to the needs and purse of every family using electricity.

"The new household model has already proved to be the most popular unit in the entire Frigidaire line. As a result a steadily rising volume of orders has brought factory production of this model to a point where a price cut is possible. It is interesting to note that it comes at times when refrigeration worries are most acute.

"With the engineering and financial assistance of its parent organization, General Motors, Frigidaire Corporation has been the prime factor in bringing electric refrigeration within reach of the masses. Five years ago the lowest priced Frigidaire sold for $750. Today, the lowest factory price is $180.

Electric refrigeration is inevitably bound to become standard household equipment, just the same as furnaces, electric lights and plumbing and thinking people have already accepted it as essential to a properly equipped kitchen, Mr. Keith said.

The moth larva does but one thing and does it well—it eats and eats and eats. Carpets, rugs, upholstery, clothing, woolens and furs are riddled with holes to satisfy the enormous appetite of the moth larva. Fly-Tox kills the moth, the eggs and the larva.

Fly-Tox is the scientific insecticide developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Simple instructions on each bottle (blue label) for killing ALL household insects. Insist on Fly-Tox. Fly-Tox is safe, stainless, fragrant, ure. Every bottle guaranteed.

SAFETY DEVICE FOR HIGHWAY TRAFFIC

J. A. WALSTON APPLIES FOR PATENT AND BELIEVES PROBLEM SOLVED

Car drivers in Cameron this week are testing a safety device at the gate leading to the Will Ford farm.

J. A. Walston, contractor here, has perfected a safety device for rail road crossings and the idea has been submitted to the state highway department as well as patent applied for from the patent office at Washington.

Those interested may drive out to the Ford gate and test out this invention. It is made twenty feet wide and is put there as a test to prove its value as a safety device for traffic over railroads.

This device was first made known to close friends of Mr. Walston shortly after the accident at Round Rock last year when ten Baylor football stars were killed in a crash.

Traffic Guides

Cement blocks to direct traffic in the mercantile area have been installed by city marshal Slocomb in the interest of better order in driving cars in the city. Keep to the right of these blocks and no difficulty will be experienced, the city marshal urges.

Cameron traffic has increased appreciably in the past year and the number of cars on the streets here reach a large figure on Saturdays.

Colonial Party

An old fashioned garden with its accent of colonial caste furnished the unique setting for a pretty compliment to Miss Louise Denson who is to become the bride of Mr. Eber Flinn on August 25, in a party given by her sister, Mrs. Roy Baskin last Tuesday afternoon. The rich coloring of flowers redolent with their perfume of summer with green shades and banks of growth was artistically arranged furnished the setting for a most delightful occasion which brought together in tribute to romance that is soon to link the lives of two much loved Cameron young people from old and cultured families.

The lawn east of the home was made to represent an old fashioned garden. The trees afforded ample shade, the blooming flowers on either side lent their bit of color and baskets of flowers of every color and kind were used, also baskets of pink vine and potted ferns were placed about to make the garden all the more attractive. At the entrance gate stood two Misses in colonial costumes to greet the guests, Misses Lena Bell Baskin and Dorothy Denson. They also served punch thruout the afternoon. There were ten tables with bright covers where the ladies found their places. Tally sheets carried out the colonial idea by colonial girls in full skirt and the score cards were fans tied with rainbow colors. Table favors were beautiful little dolls in old fashion dress with gloves, hat and written each in a different color. At the conclusion of the games ice cream molded in the shape of a slipper and cake squares were served As the last table was being served Mrs. Alex Triggs in her most charming way appeared in the rear gate of this lovely garden and sang, "In An Old Fashioned Garden" and "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." She wore such a beautiful colonial costume with powdered hair. Mrs. Baskin's gift to her sister was a beautiful bouquet of lovely summer flowers.

The influence of aviation of sign advertising is marked. Notably one notices the sign at the Baltimore station, a revolving airplane bringing back memories of the lone eagle who flew over the Atlantic. This sign is very attractive and the management is to be congratulated.

The many friends here of Lee R. Tag will be pleased to learn that he is progressing well in his illness which has kept him from his post of duty at the Cameron Enterprise for the past ten days. His condition has been more serious than had been anticipated by the family and physician but indications are that he will soon be up and able to be at his place of duty and greet his friends.

WRITES OF FACING END IN THE CHAIR

CONDEMNED MAN SAYS WORD DEATH SENDS A CHILL THROUGH BODY

Huntsville, Tex., Aug. 7.—Clifford Franck, 29 of Houston wrote while he was an inmate of the death house at the state penitentiary here that "the very word 'death' sends a chill through my body.

Franck described his 'prison and sketched the treatment which had been accorded him. He wrote to the Houston Chronicle from the death chamber of the "little green door" through which condemned men walk from their death cells to the electric chair.

"There are nine cells in the death chamber and all of them are occupied at the present time. Each inmate is given a bath and a shave once a week. On shaving days 'Big Monk,' also known to the inmates as 'the bouncer,' puts the 'harness' on each condemned man as he is ready for his turn in the barber chair.

"All condemned men are kept in solitary confinment and extra precautions are taken in the handling of them by prison authorities. The chamber is well lighted by four large ceiling lamps and a small light in front of each cell, which burns night and day. That makes 13 lights in the chamber, an unlucky number.

"We have two large electric fans which make it cool and pleasant here at all times. We are furnished with ice water.

"The only recreation a condemned man gets is a weekly walk around the prison with Assistant Warden Schram. He is very considerate and kind to us and is ready to favor us whenever he can. Only three inmates are taken for a walk at a time. "The Bouncer" puts the "Harness" on us and helps the assistant warden escort us around the yard.

"We also have a victrola that is played daily for us by the boss in charge of the death chamber.

"Three good meals are served to us every day. Breakfast is served about 7 a. m. We get hot cakes, butter, strip bacon, hot biscuits, coffee or milk. Dinner comes about 11:45 a. m. and consists of roast beef, hot biscuits or bread, two kinds of vegetables, pudding, coffee or milk. Supper is similar to dinner. The menu is changed daily.

"Two guards are in charge of the death chamber. They are 'Boss Bowden and 'Boss' Mock. They have been kind and obliging to us. They work six hours on and six hours off, one of them on duty all the time.

"Warden Speers is the big boss in charge of everything. He seems to have shown us numerous favors.

"We spend our time in the death chamber writing, praying, singing hymns, reading the Bible, talking to each other throughout the day. The favorite topic of conversation is our trials and convictions.

"I read at night until the wee hour and can hear the prison clock toll off the hours. My mind wanders from the printed page and I wonder when my time will come to march through the little green door that means death. That very word 'death' sends chills through my body. I am living in hopes of another trial.

"There are nine of us here with only a little green door between us and death. The cells are numbered one to nine. I hear that another condemned man has been brought in, a man named Milliken from San Antonio."

Franck, who was condemned to die for the shooting and killing of his wife in Houston on March 24 at the apartment house where she had taken refuge, recited in the letter that of the nine persons in death cells, seven were negroes. Himself and F. M. Snow, a man of 49, convicted in Stephenville of murder, whose execution has been fixed for August 12, were the only white men.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

As You Like It Club

The As You Like It Club met last Thursday with Mrs. T. J. Denson. She entertained on the lawn which in itself is a bower of beauty. The trees afford ample shade, the blooming flowers of every hue, the clinging vines lending their part to the decoration made a setting for a lawn party a most pleasing place. Each of the ladies were bidden to bring a bit of news to read or tell. Some brought songs, poems, romance or short story. Two specially mentioned contributions for the program were Mrs. W. H. Henley and Mrs. Roy Jeter.

Mrs. Denson's two daughters, Miss Dorothy and Mrs Clifton Jenness served a salad course consisting of molded chicken, fruit salad, graham bread sandwiches, almond cakes and lemonade.

Lawn Party

Last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Evans their daughter, Miss Laurita entertained with a lawn party in honor of her house guests, Misses Florence Barry and Virginia Cruse of Rosebud. Seats were arranged on the lawn under the large shade trees. Music was enjoyed and games and strolls were the diversions of the evening. At a late hour cake and cream were served. About 30 young people enjoyed this delightful party. Among the number was Malcolm Tyson a visitor in Cameron.

Church Party

The pupils of the primary department of the Christian church were entertained in the home of their teacher, Mrs. Wallace Jones. The rooms of the home were all a glowing in pink and white decorations. On arriving the little folks listened to stories and learned songs from their teacher. On the lawn several games were enjoyed after which all were grouped for a picture, before they came to the best of the program. This was a surprise. from the center of an inmense pink flower flowed streamers and each was bidden to pull one. Each found a surprise at the end, either a ball or whistle. Ice cream cones were served by Mrs. Jones. Several mothers helped her in hostess duties.

Luncheon for Miss Denson at Temple

Last Friday in Temple at the home of Mrs. Lane Denson, Miss Iouise Denson, bride elect, and sister-in-law of Mrs. Denson was honor guest at a 12 o'clock luncheon. Second course was peach ice cream and individual cake squares embossed in pink rosebud. Bridge was enjoyed until the middle of the afternoon when grape ice and cakes were served. At the conclusion of the games in the cut Miss Nadine Bragg won high which was a bottle of bath salts and Miss Earl Bragg won low, a hand embroidered guest towel. Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

BEWARE OF THE DEADLY DOTTED LINE

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

WITHDRAWING the family's savings account at the bank where it is safe, and losing it through speculation is a serious matter. It may bring great hardship, especially to the mistress of the home. It may force great economies in household management or amount to actual privation. It may mean that the children will have to go to work before they complete their education. The loss of the family's accumulations may even result in physical breakdown on the part of the wife through worry over the loss of savings which she helped to accumulate at the sacrifice of home comforts, but was not consulted when it came to investing them. The making of investments by men who are heads of families and inexperienced in finance should not be undertaken without consulting her. But even if both agree the venture should be talked over with the local banker or information about it obtained from the National Better Business Bureau in New York, which serves without cost and purely in the public interest. If this is done a lot of trouble and quite likely many regrets and heartaches will be avoided.

W. R. MOREHOUSE

There is one point in the activities of the inexperienced investor where he should have above all a red-light stop signal to cause him to pause and investigate and that is just before he reaches the decision to "sign on the dotted line." Before you part with your savings in the bank by signing a contract placed before you by sharp promoters, stop, examine and investigate! It will pay to read the contract several times, even reading it aloud, all the while weighing every term. It will pay to be on guard against the deadly fine print usually incorporated in most contracts,—so small that it strains your eyes and causes you to skim over it superficially. Do not sign blindfolded. It will pay well to take plenty of time to study the contract by yourself where all is quiet and you are free from the personal influence of the persuasive promoter, for to sign without the calmest consideration may spell your Waterloo financially.

Do not sign on the dotted line while blindfolded.

Unless dealing with a responsible firm or individual, never sign on the dotted line. If in the least doubt, don't sign. Never sign on verbal assurances that you are fully protected. Terms stated orally but not incorporated in a contract are not binding. Glowing promises, wild exaggerations and gross misstatements of facts are seldom reduced to writing or made in the presence of your witnesses. Your failure to read and to understand a contract before signing is not a legal excuse. When you sign a contract you proclaim that you agree with its terms and will abide by and endeavor to carry them out.

Don't sign just because some high-pressure salesman tells you that you are a wonder, or that you show good judgment, or that you have a lot of sense. Sign only when you are fully convinced that your interests are fully protected.

Prominent Men Used as Scenery

A number of slick promoters recently organized in a certain city an "automobile club" with the assurance that it would soon erect a number of downtown garages where busy business men could park their cars As an inducement for business men to take out memberships, charges to them for storage were to be nominal, much less than a like service could be obtained elsewhere. A Board of Governors was organized with the names of prominent local citizens, among them two eminent judges. No sooner was the organization of the board complete than the promoters, armed with the endorsement of these outstanding men, went forth to reap a great harvest by selling memberships. They got the members—but the building of the garages remained an idle dream.

When the members of the Board of Governors were later interviewed as to how they came to consent to the use of their names they stated that they thought the additional storage facilities were needed in the downtown district and they signed up without looking into the proposition carefully. Imagine their chagrin when told that a reading of the by-laws of the organization showed that the Board of Governors had no powers but had been used merely as scenery in order to sell memberships in a fake proposition!

Because these prominent citizens were careless with their names and failed to read and to investigate the enterprise, hundreds of business men bought memberships only to lose their money. Signing without reading is about the most dangerous act of financial carelessness that can be committed.

Copperas Cove, Tex., Aug. 7.—W. E. (Purebred) Perkins, who lives in Lampasas county 14 miles northwest of here realized more from the sale of purebred Fox Terrier puppies last year than he did from his cotton crop.

Mr. Perkins has earned the sobriquet of 'Pure' because he keeps such a variety of purebred stock on his 20 acre farm. He has purebred Duroc Jersey Hogs, purebred Red Pole Cattle, purebred Rhode Island Red Chickens, purebred Naragansette Turkeys, purebred Fox Terrier Dogs and several Toggenburg milk goats and a purebred Billy. Last year he sold more than $300 worth of puppies. He milks six goats and seven cows and feeds the surplus milk to his pigs and calves. The calves thus fattened bring good prices as baby beeves, netting him an average of $40 each. He sells from 8 to 10 baby beeves and from 15 to 20 fat hogs each year. He cultivates 50 acres in farm crops, using improved seed.

Felix Matula of the Felix Matula & Company grocery store in Cameron is among the business men here who have expressed a hopeful outlook for business in Cameron this fall. The Matula grocery for a number of years has been one of the leading firms of the city and has contributed much to the upbiulding of Cameron.

"I believe conditions will be excellent this fall in Cameron and with the large feed and grain crop, coupled with the spectacular advance in the price of cotton, conditions for the community at large should be good next year," said Mr. Matula, who estimates that Milam county's cotton crop will be about 50,000 bales. If this crop is as large as he predicts the present price would bring to the farms about five million dollars alone to supplement the value of the other crops.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES FEATURE THE GRID PROGRAM OF TEXAS COLLEGE ELEVENS FOR THE 1927 SEASON

The season opens September 24 and closes as usual on Thanksgiving Day, November 24.

Several interesting intersectional games are scheduled, but the games that will hold the attention of many persons in the conference region will be the annual clashes between Texas university and Texas A. and M. college at College Station, Baylor university and Rice Institute at Houston, Southern Methodist university and Texas Christian university at Fort Worth on Thanksgiving day.

One big game that heretofore has been a contest of interest to football followers is missing this year. Baylor university of Waco and Texas A. and M. college, will not meet, as relations were severed last fall. This action was taken because of the fatal injuries inflicted on a Texas A. and M. cadet at Waco at the game last year.

The tragedy last fall at Waco was the climax to disorders at several games between the Baptist college students and the cadets. The players of either team were not involved.

Nine Games for S. M. U.

S. M. U. Mustangs of Dallas, who so audaciously ran through the corrals of other conference teams last year, have nine games scheduled, four of which are conference events, their one intersectional game is with Missouri university at Dallas, October 22.

Texas university steers will greet their ancient enemies, the Vanderbilt university Commodores, at Dallas on October 15 and November 11 the Kansas Aggies will be welcomed at the Memorial stadium at Austin. The latter game is considered one of the most important intersectional contests scheduled by any team of the Southwest conference.

Two For Porkers

Arkansas university, the only member of the conference not in Texas, has but two conference games scheduled. The Razorbacks play the Baylor Bears at Fayetteville, October 8, and Texas Christian university Horned Frogs at Fort Worth, November 5.

Baylor university, which has been producing formidable teams for many seasons will be crippled this fall. The Bears have no intersectional games scheduled, apparently because of the tragedy at Round Rock last winter when they lost their best athletes. En route to Austin to play Texas university basket ball, a score of the finest athletes in the Southwest were lost when ten were killed and that many more were more or less permanently injured. A fast train slipped through the dark and dismal freezing haze, peculiar to Texas winters, struck and wrecked their bus.

Rice vs. Loyola

Texas Christian university will go beyond the border of the state once to meet Centennary college at Shreveport. Rice Institute will remain in Texas for all but one game, and that with Loyola university at New Orleans.

Texas Aggies will clash with boys from Suwanee at Dallas, October 8, to test their strength against a team that in recent years produced sensational football players in the Old South.

Many new names will be listed among the players on all conference teams this fall. Graduation last spring took a damaging quota and accidents and personal affairs increased the loss of players.

New Coaches

Changes have been made on some of the coaching staffs. These will result in different kinds of plays—and players. New material will be sought among the scrubs, as indications are the coaches desire to build good reserve elevens.

At Texas university Clyde Littlefield, track coach, has been appointed to succeed E. J. "Doleful Doc" Stewart as head football coach.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Constipation! How to Keep Bowels Regular

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated men, women, children, and particularly old folks, had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all headaches, biliousness, indigestion and stomach misery, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Keep Eliminative System Active

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

ONE can't feel well when there is a retention of poisonous waste in the blood. This is called a toxic condition, and is apt to make one tired, dull and languid. Other symptoms are sometimes toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people have learned the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, when the kidneys seem functionally inactive. Everywhere one finds enthusiastic Doan's users. Ask your neighbor!
